

Spot the spots: Leopard frogs

Northern Leopard Frogs are 1 of 4 frogs found in Alberta. Here at the zoo we are working to support the species through research and a reintroduction program in BC, where they are endangered (they are threatened in Alberta). To celebrate Endangered Species Day on May 15th why don't you see if you can identify these northern leopard frogs?

Match the letter to the number

The spots on a northern leopard frog are unique to them, just like our fingerprints. This means researchers can use them to ID the frogs.

Check out Nature Watch to hear what the different frog calls sound like. You can even help researchers by listening to frog calls and sending them your data! (Spring is the best time to hear them)
